ABSTRACT

This directory is intended to help persons identify the locations of innovative educational centers implementing IGE/multiunit school concepts in the U.S.A. Over 500 centers in 18 States are identified. Schools are listed alphabetically by district in each State with school addresses and telephone numbers, the names and addresses of school superintendents, and the names of any local district IGE/MUS-E coordinators provided. Where available, the names of IGE/MUS-E principals, school secretaries, and unit leaders for each level are also listed. Listings of the Wisconsin R & D Center staff and the universities cooperating with the Center conclude the document. Related documents are ED 027 238, ED 049 552-553, ED 051 589, EA 004 329, and EA 004 330. (Author/MLF)

FOREWORD

The Wisconsin R & D Center and cooperating educational agencies designed, developed, and tested Individually Guided Education (IGE) and the new school organization and staffing pattern known as the multiunit elementary school (MUS-E). We are pleased to submit this second annual directory to help persons interested in identifying where the innovative educational centers implementing IGE/multiunit school concepts are located in the U.S.A.

Only a handful of multiunit schools could be found a few years ago in Wisconsin, Ohio, and New York. The 1971-72 Directory contains the names of over 500 located in over 18 different states. Most of the multiunit schools were or will be started during the 1971-72 school year. We are pleased with the enthusiasm and progress made in establishing the IGE/multiunit school as a feasible alternative to the self-contained elementary school.

Since about three years are required to make the complete transformation from a self-contained school to an IGE/multiunit school, a listing of multiunit schools is never complete. Thus the listing of key personnel in all the multiunit schools could not be sent to the R & D Center in time to meet printing deadlines. For these reasons, the complete staff of unit leaders or other detailed data are not shown for some schools. Some schools will not be operating in the multiunit mode until the second semester of 1971-72 but deserved to be recognized herein.

Special recognition is given /I/D/E/A/, an affiliate of the Kettering Foundation of Dayton, Ohio, for developing multimedia inservice materials regarding an IGE change model and the multiunit school based in part on R & D Center research and development. These materials are being made available for purchase by all multiunit schools that participate in a recommended staff development program. Also, /I/D/E/A/ has been actively involved since 1969-70 in a parallel implementation effort to establish multiunit schools. Schools starting with assistance from /I/D/E/A/ but not the R & D Center are recognized in a separate listing herein.
